DEMORSE'S INVICORATING CORDIAL

POR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact, as a remedy for the above complaints, it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed, by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found—the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY, CONFUSION, thoughts of self-destruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by Sensua NENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c .- The mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. Woodward, of ——, Maszachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this Cordial thus: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, procured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me," says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the bospital, but they had no effect. In the mean time he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question. The proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not, in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE OMMON EXPRESSION

I their condition pronounced hopeless by n ners of high professional character. THE COMMON EXPRESSION

THE COMMON EXPIRESSION of those who have used this Extract is: "I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas,) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied that the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says: "I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured; others prescribed this thing and that; but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely cured me."

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial procured some of your Cordini. I must say it completely cured me."

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION.—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial, and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which ifs unrivalled excellence, fame, and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c., and try only this. It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle; two bottles, $5; six bottles, $12; and $24 per dozen.

Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervoueness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solidary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mendally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Heas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

MERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arise from the destructive habt of youth, that solitary practice so fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsis, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption; also those serious Mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits, or peculiar fits of Melanchely, when the truth is, they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society. NERVOUS DEBILITY.

their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion! Such persons, before contemplating tion! Such persons, before contemplating MARKIAGE.

MARRIAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and bedy are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with eur own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately.

TO STRANGERS.

TAKE NOTICE.

It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. Johnston permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprofessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fail into the hands of these imprudent, boasting impostors—individuals destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pediars, unless destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pediars, trouble when they find it can be so readily cured. A PARODY-THE SEA.

A PARODY—THE SEA.

The sea! the sea! Oh me! oh me!
The pail—be quick! I quaft—I'm sick!
I'm sick as I can be;
I cannot sit—I cannot stand;
I prithee, steward, lend a hand;
I prithee, steward, lend a hand;
I on whe can I'm on the sea!
I am where I go, to my birth will I hie,
And like a cradled infant lie.
I'm on the sea—I'm on the sea!
I am where I would never be;
With the smoke above and the steam below,
And sickness wheresofer I go;
If a storm should come, no matter I wot
To the bottom I'd go as soon as not.
I love, oh! how I love to ride
In a neat post-chalse, with a couple of bays,
And a pretty girl by my side;
But, oh, to swing, amidst fire and foam,
And to feel that soul cares no more for your wo
Than the paddles 'hat clatter as onward they go.
The ocean's wave I ne'er moved o'er,
But I loved my donkey more and more,
And homeward flew to her bony back,
Like a truant boy to his mother's sack;
And a mother she was and is to me,
For I was—an ass, to go to sea!

[From the " Nashville True Whig." Franklin Pierce Originally a "Federalist"---his Opposition to General Jackson. Some of Pierce's advocates in Tennessee dwell upon his alleged devotion to General Jackson, as a principal ground of his claims to Democratic support. It now appears, however, that even this antiquated and somewhat doubtful plank is to be knocked from under him. It seems that he did not join the fortunes of Gen Jackson until his star was rapidly gaining the ascendant, and his popularity was no longer questionable before the american people. Then he became, with the true instinct of a modern Democrat, one of his most ultra adherents and admirers. "He started in politics," says the Louisville Journal, "as a John Quincy Adams man, and used his influence against General Jackson and the Democracy. This may be rather startling intelligence to some of the Democrats, but the authority for it is no less a personage than Isaac Hill, who, for more than a quarter of a century, and till the time of his death, hore the Democracy of New Hampshire upon his strong broad shoulders. The following paragraph is taken by the Hartford Courant from the New Hampshire Patriot of 1842, of which Isaac Hill was the editor:" "Frank Pierce commenced law business about the year 1826, and boarded with his father in Hillsborough. In that year he made the old gentleman so far non-committal that his name was then used as discountenancing the senior editor of the Patriot in his opposition to John Q. Adams; he helped and assisted the Federal lawyers of that day to call out the strength of his father's name against Andrew Jackson; and it was not until the close of the year 1827 that the sterling old patriot broke away from the pernicious influence of his degenerate son." This item of Pierce's life is not given in his recently published biography. It should, says the Albany Evening Journal, be copied into the next edition; for it is only proper that the Democracy should know that, in supporting Pierce, they are supporting a "degenerate son," who "as sisted the Federal lawyers" of New Hampshire to defeat Old Hickory. Will the "Old Guard" honor a man whose "pernicious influence" helped to defeat General Jackson when he first ran for

Letter from General Scott. The following letter, written by General Scott to General Paez, soon after the struggle made by the Republic of Colombia to establish its liberty and independence, is published in the New York FORTRESS MONROE, May 28, 1823. DEAR GENERAL: Our friend, Lieut. Col. Young, s on the point of returning to Colombia, and will do me the favor to explain to you how our correspondence has been interrupted, and the ively interest I take in the three fine boys you their education. The President deemed this circumstance so flattering to the United States, that, following up his kind feelings for a sister republic, he immediately ordered, with the approbation of Colonel Young, that the boys should, as they successively attained the proper age, be admitted into our National Military Seminary, on a foot ing with our own cadets. The eldest of the three will join in a few days, and I shall have the pleasure of being present, and of rendering him all the assistance in my power. You may rely on a continuance of these attentions to him, and also to the other two, who are placed at school near my headquarters.

We have heard with deep regret of the loss of two of your ships of war in an action with much superior force. Thank God, however, your independence and liberties are placed beyond the reach of foreign aggression. In a few years more our continent cannot fail to be occupied wholly by republics. Liberty seems also likely to spread over a large portion of Europe, and among its gallant asserters the Colombian army certainly occupies a foremost position.

Permit me, General, to say that I shall at all times be happy to hear from you, and that I am, with great personal admiration and esteem, your obedient servant, WINFIELD SCOTT. To General J. A. PAEZ, &c.

What was thought of General Scott in Petersburg in 1814.

From Niles' Register of August 27th, 1814, we copy the following handsome tribute to General cott, from which an idea may be formed of the high estimation in which the young General was then held by the citizens of Petersburg:

"Generals Brown and Scott are doing well. The former, it is thought, may have resumed his command about the 25th August. Scott suffered much, and was still confined to his bed on the 15th; however, there was every prespect of as speedy a recovery as could be expected.

"MAJOR GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT-Petersburg, Va., August 16.-This gallant soldier, who has not yet attained his thirtieth year, is a native of this county, (Dinwiddie.) In this State he re quived his education, and its last polish at the College of William and Mary. With skill, diligence, perseverance, and unrivalled eloquence, he practised law for a short time in the adjacent counties. But his great soul aspired to "deeds of arms." He entered into the service of his country in 1808, with the commission of captain of light artillery, and in a short time joined the Southern army under General Wilkerson. His arrest, the charges against him, and his unparalleled defence on that occasion, have long since been before the public.

"This noble defence convinced the Cabinet at Washington, and the world at large, that he was the scholar, the politician, and the soldier. Since then, no man has ascended the military ladder with more resplendent rapidity than has Winfield Scott-two more rounds, and he will have topped the climax of military honor.

"Glowing with friendship, veneration, and pride for this brave soldier, a number of citizens of Petersburg, as we are informed, have resolved to have made an elegant SWORD, with appropriate devices, to be presented to the hero of Chippewa and Bridgewater. In his hands we are confident that it never will be drawn but in defence of his country's rights, and never tarnished but by the The Henry Clay Catastrophe.

The columns of the New York papers received last night are burdened with the sad and sickening details of this lamentable catastrophe. Every hour seems to bring new horrors to the story, and to add to the general grief. The witnesses before the coroner's jury all corroborate the main facts in relation to the occurrence which we have already given, and demonstrate that the calamity, with all its sad consequences, is solely attributable to the reprehensible practice of racing. Nearly all the witnesses examined have lost a wife, child, or friend; and their relations of the unavailing endeavors they made for the rescue of those most dear to them are not the least affecting incidents connected with the terrible occurrence. We take from the New York Times some additional particulars, with a full list of the dead and missing:

The scene of the melancholy disaster to the Henry Clay was visited at an early hour yesterday by an immense concourse of persons, anxious to recognise the lost, to reclaim the bodies which were recovered, or to gaze upon the wreck.

Before 10 o'clock in the morning, the grappling-irons had recovered several bodies, which were decently composed and laid in order upon the beach for recognition. Husbands, wives, parents, brothers, sisters, thronged in deep grief around the bodies.

The investigation of the causes of the disaster was resumed before the coroner's jury at an early hour. A large amount of testimony was re-ceived, which goes far to establish the criminality of those connected with the origin of the deplo-rable event. The utmost excitement was manifested in regard to the culpable parties and the motives by which they seem to have been actuated. The authorities of Westchester county are determined that no stone shall be left unturned to ferret out the guilty parties. A most thorough and searching investigation should be made, and the results stated without fear or favor. We are assured that while the Henry Clay was running at the height of her speed, below Sing Sing, she was carrying an unusual pressure of steam; and further, had not the engineer cut the weights attached to the safety-valve, when he was forced to flee from the engine room by the intense heat, the boilers would have inevitably exploded before she reached the shore. A pas-senger also states that when passing under the shaft, near the wood-work over the boilers, the heat was of such intensity that he was compelled to place a handkerchief over his face to avoid it.
